

President's Notes

Our concert lineup for 2023-2024 season for January, February and March will feature Tallymoore, Heron Valley and Dáimh. Season tickets will be $80 for these three concerts. Tickets are available on Eventbrite or through a board member, or mail a check to our PO box. Regular ticket prices are $30 in advance at our ticket outlets, listed on the last page, $35 at the door. So, you save $10 on a season ticket. Concert tickets make a great Christmas gift!

Please consider making a donation as a friend of the CMA. We are a non-profit organization, barely covering our costs to bring you these concerts from all over the world.

Please invite your friends to join us for these wonderful Celtic music concerts. We have plenty of room in the comfortable seating of Franklin Event Center. We will once again have our February concert at Holy Trinity Hall for a more intimate concert at tables. Consider helping us with the tear down, putting away tables and chairs after that concert. Beverages will be available at all events with a free will donation offering.

The Foy Irish dancers will be performing at the Tallymoore concert January 20th at Franklin Event Center.

This year, we are changing our performance start times to 7:30 pm. Doors will open an hour before at 6:30 pm. Beverages will be available with free will donation. We also have a Square reader now to purchase tickets at the door with a credit card. Also, children under 12 are admitted free with a paying adult. Hope to see you there and bring friends!

Tallymoore at Franklin Event Center, January 20, 2024, 7:30 pm

Tallymoore is a contemporary Irish Folk band from Milwaukee, Wisconsin performing a range of Irish and Scottish folk tunes, ballads, reels and classic pub songs. The group also incorporates acoustic and vocal material from broader Celtic, traditional country, bluegrass, and Americana sources. Established in 2012, Tallymoore has made appearances at major Irish music festivals across the United States including Milwaukee, Kansas City, Syracuse, and Indianapolis. They also perform regularly at popular bars and restaurants, and for Irish-related events and private engagements. Tallymoore released their second full-length album “Drive” in March of 2016.

Tallymoore aims to breathe new life into Irish folk favorites. They are best known for their strong vocals and complex harmonic treatments of tunes, along with rich instrumentation featuring the ambitious and polished fiddle stylings of Erin Hoffmann. Their innovative arrangements of classic tunes have made them a favorite among festival goers. Their vocal harmony blend, distinctive arrangements, and strong musicianship have distinguished them on the Irish music scene.

Tallymoore’s four core players are Sean Ward (mandolin), Erin Hoffmann (violin), Matt Voell (piano) and Dave Kennedy (guitar). They frequently perform with guest bassist, Karl Suechting.

They’ve weaved together a unique sound that is new and old at the same time. Beautiful vocal harmonies mixed with folk instrumentation at its best.

Heron Valley, February 24, 2024 at Holy Trinity Hall, 7:30 pm

'The energy in the room was unmatched and Heron Valley gave us one hell of a show'
- Kitty Hoynes

Heron Valley are an energy fueled, traditional band from Scotland. Their roots lie in Scottish and Irish traditional music, including traditional Scots song and Scottish piping tunes and Irish banjo. The five-piece group comprises, Abigail Pryde on Fiddle and Vocals, Keith Morrison on Keys, Nick Hamilton on Banjo and Guitar, Alastair Maclean on Bagpipes and Whistles, and Callum Cronin on Bass and Guitar.

Their inception as a folk band began in 2014, after spending the first few years of their musical careers perfecting their craft as a young ceilidh dance band. In 2018 they formed the line up you now know, when they embarked on their first tour of the USA.

Coming from vastly different areas of Scotland (Oban, Lewis, Cowal, Glasgow and Stirling) you are sure to hear an excellent story or two from Heron Valley, and maybe even some Scots language lessons!

In 2015 the band released their first single and music video, a set of tunes, 'Pressed for Time'. The storyline takes the band from performing out on a moving boat on the beautiful Loch Fyne in Argyll, to their journey to and performance at a gig in a local dance hall. This was extremely well received and racked up 85K views, with people all over the world purchasing the single.

A year later, they released their second single and video 'Home'. This time, they set off at 3AM to climb up Beinn an Lochainn, a hill in the west coast of Scotland residing beside the Rest and Be Thankful, a stunning area with many a story itself. The video sees this journey from bottom to top and shows them playing on cliff edges in the beautiful area where Abigail grew up.

From this, the band set off to the USA and EU and continued to release more music including their debut album 'Roam', single 'Take You There', single 'Springburn, just shy of Ireland', and EP 'Erie Storm'.

Dàimh at Franklin Event Center, March 23, 2024, 7:30 pm

*“Tasteful, assured, and really well played, it’s guaranteed to inspire the feet and leave a smile on your lips.”
-The Scotsman*

Dàimh – Gaelic super group and unchallenged champions of straight in the eye Highland music are based around West Lochaber and the Isle of Skye.

Formed around the turn of the century and taking the name from the Gaelic word for “kinship” Dàimh (pronounced Dive) have taken their contemporary take of Highland and Gaelic music to over 20 countries, setting audiences alight from Moscow to San Francisco.

With a reputation as giants of the Bagpipes and Fiddle, Angus Mackenzie and Gabe McVarish lead the melodic powerhouse with fellow founder member Ross Martin underpinning the groove on the Guitar. The Band are joined by “new guy” Murdo “Yogi” Cameron on Mandola and Accordion to complete the instrumental line up.

Dàimh have always had the renown and notoriety of working with some of the finest Gaelic singers in Scotland and the current line up only serves to cement that distinction with the addition of the Gaelic firmament’s most rapidly rising star, Ellen MacDonald on vocals.

Recent accolades include last year’s award for the “Best Folk Band in Europe” at the prestigious Folkherbst competition in Germany and most recently winner of “Folk Band of the Year” at the Scottish Traditional Music Awards.

Wee Heavies Concert Recap

A Saturday evening out to see remarkable and memorable group – The Wee Heavies. Incredible vocal blends and variety – well worth the ticket price. Not overly crowded, this was a wonderful, fun, relaxing and energetic performance and home by 10:00 pm. Now that’s my kind of night! Looking forward to the next show from the Celtic Music Association.
